

Wilkie Collins Journal - New Series

The Wilkie Collins Society Journal will be re-launched as a new online journal entitled The Wilkie Collins Journal later this year. The publication will continue to be peer-reviewed and will be a rigorous academic resource.

We are currently looking for articles to feature in the first edition of the new, third series. The editor invites articles of between 6,000 and 8,000 words on any subject relating to the life and work of Wilkie Collins and/or related fiction. All manuscripts should follow the MLA Style and should not be under consideration for publication elsewhere. Email submissions are accepted: a.s.mangham@reading.ac.uk
